Thus this child must have been the one child attributed to Emma ("1 born 1 survived") that was born to and survived in the 1900 Census. However, May does not appear in the 1910 Federal Census with Henry White and Emma even though May would have been aged 15 in 1910. It is peculiar that the 1910 Census recors only one child bore to Emma and surviving still even though Edith A. (age 2) and Florence May (age 11 months) listed there in had to be children of both Henry and Emma who married 27 Sep 1898. She has not been located in the 1910/1930 Federal Census.

- Identity: Based on the 1910 Federal Census including a 1 1/2 year old Melvin B. Hunt enumerated at home of John N. and Maggie M. Bristow as a grandson and the fact that only daughter Flossie M. is no longer in that family listing or found elsewhere in 1910. It is likely that she died, perhaps in childbirth, even though the 1910 census states that all of her mother's six children still survived. An examination of Hunts in the surrounding area, however, has not turned up a widower Hunt born in IA who might be the child's father. The search included that for a Melvin Hunt.[SBCWJR]
